

Anne Lane Tribble

January 20, 1951 – August 22, 2012

Some knew her as Anne....others as Poochie....others as Tuggy! However you knew her, you were blessed to know one of the most beautiful people to have ever graced this Earth. Anne Lane Tribble was the reason they created the terms “Pretty as a Peach” and “True Southern Belle”.

Anne never met a soul that didn't love her. When she moved out to the retail store and became the face and voice of Lane Southern Orchards, customers would come in and ask if they could meet her. They wanted to hear that perfect southern drawl, that most people try to mock, and be greeted with a big ole “Hey y'all”.

Anne Lane Tribble, devoted Mother, Grandmother, Daughter, Sister, Loving Wife and Friend went to be with the Lord on Wednesday, August 22, 2012, after fighting a courageous battle with cancer.
